NEWS OF THE CITY CHURCHES. Union Mission Tent Meetings at

Twenty-Second and Locust. Railroad Evangelist E. A. Ferguson of Mount Vernon, Ill., and the Reverend M. E. Gott, local paster of the Union Mission Association, No. 1437 Franklin avenue, are holding tent meetings at Twenty-second and Locust streets. These meetings were inaugurated May 15, under the direction of the Reverend Mr. Gott and formally opened by the evangelist May 24. The original dimensions of the tent were 60x60 feet, and another one of the same size has been added, but with this addition it remains too small to accommodate the crowds.

At some of the meetings it is found necessary to place benches and chairs on the outside of the tent reaching to the sidewalk. The converts in the last week number 200. The meetings will be continued indefinitely, services being held daily at 2.39 and 7:50 p. m. Good music is furnished by a competent choir and the meetings are interdenominational. THREE INTERESTING DIPLOMATIC CHANGES

Honorable Michael Herbert Announced as Great Britain's Ambassador to United States.

RELATED TO THE VANDERBILTS.

Washington Society Is Speculating on Part This Influential Family Will Play at the Capital-New Spanish Minister.

The Republic Bureau, Washington, June 4.-Three important diplomatic events took place to-day. Honorable Michael Herbert was announced as the British Ambassador to succeed Lord Pauncefote; the Duke of Arcos was succeeded as Spanish Minister at Washington by Sener De Ojeda, and Sener Gonzales de Quesada was confirmed by the Cuban Sen-ate as Cuban Minister to Washington. Behind each of these announcements is a very interesting story.

Honorable Michael Herbert is the first Honorable Michael Herbert is the first Roman Catholic Ambassador from a Prot-estant nation. He is married to an Ameri-can wife, formerly Miss Lelia Wilson, daughter of Richard T. Wilson of New York, and is, by marriage, related to the Vanderbilts, Astors and Ogden Goelets. The mother of the new British Ambassador. The mother of the new British Ambassador was Lady Herbert Lea, the author of the Roman Catholic classic, "The Land of the Cid." She was an intimate friend of Cardinal Hewgan and she, with her family, were prosesyted during the Oxford movement. Lady Herbert visited this country when her son was married and was the recipient of marked attention from Cardinal Gibbons and other Catholic prelates.

The advent of Honorable Michael Herbert in Washington will advance the prestige of the Vanderbilts in the social set at the capital, and will doubtless attract the members of this family to Washington during next winter. Society is already commenting upon this fact.

His Diplomatic Record.

His Diplomatic Record.

His Diplomatic Record.

His Diplomatic Record.

Honorable Michael Herbert is a younger son of the distinguished family of the Herberts of Lea, or which the head is Lord Sidney Herbert, carl of Pembroke and Montgomery. He was Charge d'Affaires of the British Legation here during the Interim after the dismissel of Lord Sackville-West by President Cleveland, and held this post for some months during 1283 and 1883. He was afterwards secretary of the British Legation from 1872 until 1883, before Lord Pauncefote was raised to the rank of an Ambassador.

He served at various European posts and was transferred to Paris to succeed Sir Henry Howard as first secretary of the British Embassy and Minister Plenipotentiary. This is an anomalous post and was created during the time that Lord Dufferin and Ava was incapacitated to perform all of his duties. The first incumbent was Sir Henry Howard, who held it until transferred to The Hague. The convenience of the arrangement was recognized and it was continued under the regime of the present Ambassador, Sir Edmund Monson.

Duke of Arcos's Romance.

The Duke of Arcos, who retires as Spanish Minister here, was one of the best known personages in Washington. For nearly twenty years he was well known here as Jack Brunnetti and, as a poor but brilliant young Spanish attache, wooed Miss Virginia Lowrty against the wishes of her family. When, in course of time, his elevation to a dukedom and the inheritance of large family estates made him more eligible, the marriage was permitted. His estates are situated in Catalonia, the center of the present economic disturbances in Spain, and his fortune has suffered somewhat during his residence in Washington. He has been transferred to Brussels and will be convenient to his estates and also to the great European oculists, as the eyes have lately falled and need constant care.

Status of Senor de Quesada. Duke of Arcos's Romance.

Status of Senor de Quesada.

When Senor de Quesada comes to Washington as the Cuban Minister, an interesting controversy will be opened. Just before the Spanish-American war, the late Vice President Hobart took up Quesada, invited him to receptions at his home and made much of him. Mr. Hobart proposed Senor Quesada for membership in the Metropolitan Club, but he was rejected as ineligible. tan Club, but he was rejected as ineligible. It is a rule of the Metropolitan Club to admit all diplomats to membership upon their arrival in the city. The interesting question is, Will Senor Quesada forget the slight to his dignity or will the club cease to remember that it once has finally passed upon the personal eligibility of Senor Quesada for membership in this exclusive organization?

Police Court Dockets Crowded With Their Cases.

The Dayton Street Police Court was crowded yesterday by owners of vehicles charged with not having licenses. They were arrested the day previous in the raid of the police on unlicensed vehicles.

Many of the defendants produced a license which had been taken out before being arrested, but had been left at home. They were discharged. Others had taken out a license after being released on bond, Judge Wislizenus assessed 33 costs in all cases where the parties did not have a license. Costs amounting to $210 were collected by Chief Deputy Marshal McDermott.

In the South St. Louis Police Court there were forty vehicle-license cases on the dockety esterday. They were dealt with more leniently than in the Dayton Street Court. The defendants on complying with the law by taking out a license were discharged.

Mrs. Holland Recovers $82 Lost at

Mrs. Bessle Holland of No. 7 South Vandeventer avenue lost a pocket-book valued at $40, containing $82, at the Elks' Carnival at #40, containing $22 at the Elks Carnival at Handlan Park, Monday night. Without really believing that she would receive any clew us to the whereabouts of hir property size applied to the officers of the Carnival and was delighted to learn that the book and contents had failen into honest hands that she could have her property by identifying it. Yesterday afternoon the pocket-book and money were restored to her.

Mrs. Samuel Goldman of No. 4456 Morgan street visited the Elks' Carnival at Handlan's Park Monday night, accompanied by her husband. As she stepped inside the gate her foot struck something, she reached down to see what it was and picked up a sliver chatelaine pocket-book, containing $32 and some small change.

Mr. Goldman gave his card to the secretary of one of the Elks' shows and said that the owner could have the property at Goldman Bros. furniture store, 1102 Olive street by identifying.

Vesterday afternoon Mrs. Holland appeared at the store and after accurately describing the pocket-book and contents secured her property. Mrs. Holland was ut a loss to account for the manner in which her pocket-book was lost, but she is under the impression that when entering the park, as the crowd was quite dense at the gate, it must have been pulled from the hook to which it was secured and fallen unnoticed on the ground. at Handlan Park, Monday night. ST. LOUIS COUNTY PARAGRAPHS.

A. B. M. Thompson, City Collector of Webster Groves, has been instructed by the Board of Aldermen to proceed immediately against the delinquent taxpayers in that town. He flied twenty suits for taxes in the Clayton Circuit Court yesterday, and more will soon be flied. The majority of the delinquents have been fighting for the disincorporation of Webster Groves for years, and the action of the Aldermen and Collector is expected to start a renewal of the fight.

The Webster Park Realty Company filed in the Recorder's office in Clayton yesterday articles of agreement with Clarles Skinker, whereby the latter is given the privilege to lay and maintain a system of sewer pipes in Webster Park for fifty years. The main sewer is to be built under Oakwood avenue, and is to be completed within one year.

Arthur Meyer, who was arrested in Jennings a week ago on a statutory charge, was dismissed yesterday by Justice Greens-felder, as the prosecuting witness refused to appear against him.

The will of Philander P. Lewis, who died at his home in Crescent about three weeks ago, was filed in the Probate Court in Clayton yesterday. He left $6 to his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude William Frazer, and the remainder to his wife, Mary J. Lewis. At her death the property will go to Mrs. Frazer.

Press telegrams from New York state that a combination is forming between the National Lead Company, which occupies in the industry a place similar to that occupied by the Steel Trust, and the Union Lead Company. The result would be a corporation which would control the lead culput and manufacture of the United States, Local men interested in the Southeast Missouri lead fields say that they have heard nothing of a consolidation of such farreaching nature.

Attorney Eugene T. Angert represents the Guggenheims and the Rvan-Whitney syndicate in this city, and says that their holdings have been merged since last July, and that they will be incorporated under one firm name within a month. "The extensive lead properties," said he, "known as 'be Jennie May lead mines, the Missouri Lead Company's mines, the Derby and the Irondale lead mines, are owned by the combination, One smelter is already in operation at Cheitenham and another at Alton."

Representatives of other extensive lead interests, such as the St. Joe Lead Company, the Federal Lead Company, the Ederal Lead Company, the Union Lead Company and the Central Lead Company, say that the operations of a trust, however extensive, will not interfere with them, as the Missouri lead fields are big enough for ali.

F. W. Schoffield, manager of the Federal Lead Company, said that there is enough of the heavy metal in the lead district to enable the independent companies to make money, however powerful competitors may be.

The Union Lead and Oil Company owns a cheap method of manufacturing white lead, which makes the firm dangerous competitors, it is said, of the National Lead Company. The Union company, it is reported, also, has been seeking to combine with small independent manufactories of pipe lead and shot in direct competition with the National. It is asserted in New York that harmony is essential between the two big companies, and that it can only be obtained by a combination.
